foreward

Some forty years in the past, in the bleak September of 1918, the ideal of Catholic Secondary Education became a reality with the formal opening of St. Mel High School for boys.

As the class of 1958, we are proud that our graduation has terminated the fortieth anniversary of the school. Wishing to give recognition in some way, we have considered it fitting to salute these past years in our yearbook.

The best way we can acknowledge the past is by dedicating the 1958 Knight to the future. This we have done. We salute the future of St. Mel and the important part it is playing in the program of modern Catholic education. We are looking ahead to the future progressive years that will bring the modern world unbelievable advances. By this avowal to the future, we unveil St. Mel as a modern institution, devoted towards the development and education of modern Christian leaders.

Thus from this era of space travel, swept-wings, and push-buttons, we have chosen the theme for the 1958 Knight. With little trouble, we have recognized this as the perfect year for "INTRODUCING THE MODERN."

introducing

the modern

way

Just what is the Modern Way?

The people of today are eating up the wild ideas of our scientists. Their craving for lunarliners, univacs, and robotized appliances have developed into a hysteria that is widely spreading throughout the country. In the confusion of today's modernism, people are constantly striving for what is modern, and what is new. Many times, after all their struggling, they are left perplexed and discontented. The most obvious reason for this is the simple fact that they do not know what is truly modern.

To find the answer to this question, we must turn back the clock to the most climatic moment in history, Calvary. From this Fount of Life, we draw all established truths, and these in turn absorb the strides of progress. This then is THE MODERN WAY.

Let us turn this page and introduce ourselves to the WAY of St. Mel, THE MODERN WAY. We will meet an administration alert to the progressive ideas of today, and a faculty that uses a fresh approach to the proper blending of the traditional and the modern. Let's make ourselves at home as we get acquainted with the various departments that reflect the modern approach.

Upon opening the door of the jagged road of life, we see that THE MODERN WAY finds its foundation in the nearly two-thousand-year old Church of Christ. However, this WAY is much more modern than the aged two-thousand years suggest. For God is Eternity. After all, what is more modern than tomorrow forever?

MESSAGE TO THE STUDENT BODY

With the completion of this school year, we stand in the threshold looking back at thirty years of Catholic education at St. Mel High School. We see this school, and the very long list of individuals who have profited by this institution. We are proud of our school established over so many years by the fine work which has been done. We thank God for such a splendid record.

But to stand in the threshold and look only to the rear is foolishness. Thus we look so to the rear. Our gaze must be turned forward. We can justly feel proud in our accomplishments of the past thirty years. We must also look forward to try to find out what the Catholic Education that we have received at St. Mel High School we must try to do to make our lives more Catholic, more American. The first thing we must do is to apply these principles to our present and future.

As we look to the rear and the past through the pages of this book, let us also look to the future. Let our deeds and our record with equal pride be recorded as well as our past.

Sincerely, J. M. J.

Brother J. Camillus, FSC

Providence is their guide

Brother H. Maurice, Principal of St. Mel, Moderator of Fathers and Friends Club, is the man behind the scenes responsible for the success of the school tagged to it. He is an alumnus of De La Salle High School in Joliet, Illinois. An avid sports fan Brother will offer his comments for hours on any sport. His advice has reached the ears of such athletes as John Rigney, Vice-President of Chicago White Sox. He was the Athletic Director at De La Salle, Chicago, and President of the Catholic League in 1950. Brother was appointed as principal of St. Mel in 1953 and has been here ever since, prevailing the corridors of the school with his friendly and cheerful attitude.

Assistant Principal, Brother J. Richard, has a very busy job of getting the students of the West Branching prepared to make the best of their high school career. Brother's favorite past times are reading and hiking. He has taught at De La Salle, Chicago, Illinois; De La Salle, Nebraska; De La Salle, Kansas City; and has been the Director of Novices at the Novitiate in Glencoe. Besides being so busy with school activities, Brother coached baseball and basketball at De La Salle, Kansas City. Brother also has been fortunate to study Theology at the Monastery in Rome for one year (1949-1950).

A native Chicagoan, Brother H. Dominic, has helped boys plan their future through his excellent Guidance Program. Brother likes tennis, reading, and music and hiking. For what is more pleasant to a person who has done a hard day's work than to listen to some good music? Brother has also taught at Cedar High School, Winona, Minnesota. Among the subjects the Brother has taught are: English, algebra, geometry, Latin, and religion. Brother's ambition is to teach in the philosophy and psychology departments at St. Mary's College. When asked what Brother thought of his job as Guidance Director, he said: "I find the assignment as Guidance Director most satisfying because of the opportunity it gives me to help each boy as a person, rather than as a member of a class, to decide upon and carry out his life plan."

Wiederum ist die Frage zu stellen, ob diese Ergebnisse für die gesamte Stichprobe gültig sind. In der Tabelle 6 sind die Ergebnisse für die verschiedenen Altersgruppen dargestellt. Wie zu erwarten war, ist die Wahrscheinlichkeit, eine Kasse zu betreten, mit zunehmendem Alter ansteigend. Dies gilt insbesondere für die Gruppe der über 70-Jährigen, bei der die Wahrscheinlichkeit, eine Kasse zu betreten, um ein Produkt zu kaufen, im Vergleich zur Kontrollgruppe um etwa 10 Prozentpunkte höher liegt.

Tabelle 6: Wahrscheinlichkeit, eine Kasse zu betreten, um ein Produkt zu kaufen, nach Altersgruppe

Altersgruppe	Kontrollgruppe	Interventionsgruppe
18-29 Jahre	0,12	0,13
30-39 Jahre	0,15	0,16
40-49 Jahre	0,18	0,19
50-59 Jahre	0,22	0,23
60-69 Jahre	0,28	0,30
über 70 Jahre	0,35	0,45

Die Ergebnisse zeigen, dass die Interventionen in den Supermärkten erfolgreich waren und zu einer Erhöhung der Wahrscheinlichkeit führten, eine Kasse zu betreten, um ein Produkt zu kaufen. Diese Ergebnisse sind besonders wichtig, da sie zeigen, dass die Interventionen auch bei älteren Menschen wirksam waren, die tendenziell weniger gesundheitsbewusst sind.

department councils — elected to serve

Among the services rendered by the Junior Council was the presentation of the Junior Dance and a poster campaign exhibiting illustrated slogans to remind juniors of importance of retreat and of carrying a pass.

Sophomore Council improved school life by the presentation of a highly successful skating party in December. The Council also conducted a homeroom elimination basketball tournament after school. During Varsity basketball games at home, they operated the candy store for the patrons' enjoyment.

Freshman Council began their first steps at taking charge by sponsoring a Roller Skating Party at Riverview Roller Rink in May. Besides serving soda to basketball fans, the council also directed a softball elimination tournament.

the modern

The class of 1958 feels proud and privileged to present St. Mel with a new school song. On the following page is printed the music and lyrics of an Alma Mater Song composed and arranged this year by members of this class. We ask that it be considered as the modern addition to the fine school songs we already have.

This new TONE is found not only in our new song, but also in the many activities and events of the year. As the year unfolded, it was soon apparent that this was a year destined to be one of the outstanding achievements. To "kick off" the year the football team delighted its followers with a most successful season. Charged with this fever of success, we went on to establish a new record in the Harvest Party Drive. Following in this chain reaction came the most memorable Homecoming pageantry in years. Not to be outdone, our basketball team, picking itself up off the floor from an early season knock-down, rallied itself to a blazing finish by copping second place in the Central section and thus gaining a berth in the play-offs. Keeping in tune with the successful tempo of the year, the Meldramatic Club took their bows after a season of thunderous applause. As a dessert to this savory repast of exceptional performances, the Knights came through with another record in the Auxiliary Drive.

Above all, we The Class of 1958, will cherish forever those three days at La Salle Manor, where His Holy Presence crashed through the sound barrier of our minds and hearts.

It is indeed an honor to introduce to you, those who BEAT OUT the RHYTHM of our MODERN TONE.

THE ELECT OF THE SELECT

President of The National Honor Society, Bob Fiorita discusses plans for a new project for patrolling orderly boarding of buses after school. Other officers, clockwise from Bob, are Vir Pariso, Secretary; Chuck Dolezal, Treasurer; Art King, Sergeant at Arms; and Bob Hoffmann, Vice President.

The Society has used its organization to offer services to the community as well as to the school. Among such services were its invaluable aid to the TB Mobile X-ray unit and its sponsorship of the March of Dimes Drive. The success of Catholic Press Month and the order on CTA buses are fruits of their efforts.

It is not a simple matter to find a job in the U.S. economy. The unemployment rate is 10.2 percent, and the job market is very competitive.

Each of these may be done by hand or by Playdoh with the help of a teacher. The next stage is to have the children use the MIRA card. Sixty six MIRA cards are supplied with each reduced copy.

1. Stress is the force exerted on a body per unit area perpendicular to the direction of the force. It is denoted by  $\sigma$  and is measured in  $\text{N/m}^2$ .
 2. Strain is the change in length of a body per unit original length. It is denoted by  $\epsilon$  and is dimensionless.
 3. Young's Modulus is the ratio of stress to strain in the elastic region of a material. It is denoted by  $E$  and is measured in  $\text{N/m}^2$ .
 4. Poisson's Ratio is the ratio of lateral strain to longitudinal strain in a material under stress. It is denoted by  $\nu$  and is dimensionless.
 5. Shear Modulus is the ratio of shear stress to shear strain. It is denoted by  $G$  and is measured in  $\text{N/m}^2$ .
 6. Volume Modulus is the ratio of volumetric stress to volumetric strain. It is denoted by  $K$  and is measured in  $\text{N/m}^2$ .
 7. Stress-Strain Diagram is a graph showing the relationship between stress and strain for a material. It typically shows an elastic region, a yield point, a plastic region, and a fracture point.
 8. Factor of Safety is the ratio of the ultimate strength of a material to the working stress. It is denoted by  $n$  and is dimensionless.
 9. Ultimate Tensile Strength is the maximum stress that a material can withstand before fracture. It is denoted by  $\sigma_u$  and is measured in  $\text{N/m}^2$ .
 10. Yield Strength is the stress at which a material begins to deform plastically. It is denoted by  $\sigma_y$  and is measured in  $\text{N/m}^2$ .
 11. Elongation at Break is the percentage increase in length of a material before fracture. It is denoted by  $\epsilon_b$  and is dimensionless.
 12. Reduction of Area is the percentage decrease in cross-sectional area of a material before fracture. It is denoted by  $\psi$  and is dimensionless.
 13. Impact Resistance is the ability of a material to absorb energy during a sudden impact. It is measured in  $\text{J/m}^2$ .
 14. Hardness is the resistance of a material to permanent indentation. It is measured in  $\text{kg/mm}^2$ .
 15. Corrosion Resistance is the ability of a material to resist degradation due to chemical or electrochemical reactions. It is measured in  $\text{mm/year}$ .
 16. Wear Resistance is the ability of a material to resist material loss due to friction or abrasion. It is measured in  $\text{mm}^3/\text{N} \cdot \text{m}$ .
 17. Thermal Expansion is the increase in length of a material due to a rise in temperature. It is denoted by  $\Delta L$  and is measured in  $\text{m}$ .
 18. Thermal Contraction is the decrease in length of a material due to a fall in temperature. It is denoted by  $\Delta L$  and is measured in  $\text{m}$ .
 19. Thermal Stress is the stress induced in a material due to a change in temperature. It is denoted by  $\sigma_t$  and is measured in  $\text{N/m}^2$ .
 20. Thermal Strain is the strain induced in a material due to a change in temperature. It is denoted by  $\epsilon_t$  and is dimensionless.
 21. Thermal Conductivity is the ability of a material to conduct heat. It is denoted by  $k$  and is measured in  $\text{W/m} \cdot \text{K}$ .
 22. Thermal Expansion Coefficient is the ratio of the change in length to the original length per unit change in temperature. It is denoted by  $\alpha$  and is measured in  $1/\text{K}$ .
 23. Thermal Contraction Coefficient is the ratio of the change in length to the original length per unit change in temperature. It is denoted by  $\alpha$  and is measured in  $1/\text{K}$ .
 24. Thermal Stress Coefficient is the ratio of the change in stress to the original stress per unit change in temperature. It is denoted by  $\beta$  and is measured in  $1/\text{K}$ .
 25. Thermal Strain Coefficient is the ratio of the change in strain to the original strain per unit change in temperature. It is denoted by  $\beta$  and is measured in  $1/\text{K}$ .
 26. Thermal Conductivity Coefficient is the ratio of the change in thermal conductivity to the original thermal conductivity per unit change in temperature. It is denoted by  $\gamma$  and is measured in  $1/\text{K}$ .
 27. Thermal Expansion Coefficient of Area is the ratio of the change in area to the original area per unit change in temperature. It is denoted by  $\alpha_a$  and is measured in  $1/\text{K}$ .

"the shrew and its crew"

The Meldramatic Club presented the Shakespearian comedy, "The Taming of the Shrew," on April 26 and 27.

A midspring night's delight, and like one of a gay spirit, was it at Resurrection Auditorium. The Meldramatic Club had a ball putting on this lively farce. His sprightly play was contagious to the audience as everyone joined in the fun. It didn't seem to matter if some of the lines of the classical expressions of Elizabethan English were understood. The Meldramatic Club proved a point that good drama, well presented, is well received.

Quoted last year by Observer Exchange Editor, Joe Van Zandt: "If I am appointed Editor-in-Chief next year, this paper will be so good, the students will really look forward to reading it. And so it was. This year, Observer staff has brought forth some of the most sparkling columns yet seen by the student body. Besides excellent sports articles and numerous short features, the staff has also introduced several exciting features viz. Art Section, Mike Susselbach's predictions, Editor's Race to the Bank, What Aves, and the Knightly Inquiry. You see, a quiet year has filled your prediction."

"something to remember you by"

Another year another story and we have added the latest chapter to our collection of memories. The "Old Knight" has just been published and we have taken the time of this year to tell the story by a new and colorful artist. To keep things with the theme we have presented the story in a unique way. By using a 100% original design and material and with simplicity we have tried to put it in a unique way. We hope that you will think of it as something unique and outstanding.

The Knight staff is indeed grateful to the many students who have so willingly devoted their efforts toward making this book a reality. We show special gratitude for Mr. Gerald Sullivan whose efforts have made the success of the "Old Knight" possible.

In the late hours of the evening we were thinking of day titles and captions for this page thought of this. "It had to be us" and we were right.

To Love is to Serve

A group of young men and women, members of the youth group of the First Methodist Church, are pictured here. They are gathered around a table, possibly for a meal or a social event. The group includes both men and women, all dressed in formal attire. The setting is indoors, likely in a church hall or a formal meeting room.

an out of this world retreat house

The Date is October 26, 1957. The place is LaSalle Manor in Plano, Ill. The reason is the dedication of a new retreat house for the use of the boys of Christian Brothers' Schools. Here, on these grounds, many souls will find God, their God, amidst the splendor of the rolling countryside.

This year sets a precedent, for a whole new string of memories will be carried by every alumnus. He will remember the beauty of the landscape of the state's new manor. He will carry with him a pleasant memory of sleeping in forest lean-to structures and the hospitality of good food. But most of all he will remember the days he had spent alone with his God. Here he was doing some real standing before himself for this thing called Life.

"GENTLEMEN, RESOLVED..."

Members of the Senior Debate Team, looking on as the Moderator, Mr. Kondratowicz, takes the floor to introduce the topic of the school year.

"IN REBUTTAL..."

Newcomer debaters eagerly look forward to a successful first season of debate.

The Senior Debate Team took on the modern look this year as their new moderator, Mr. Kondratowicz, took over the reins of the team. With this fresh look in the saddle the Senior Debators galloped through the season with a highly fine record.

The two topics discussed this year were: "Resolved -That Direct United States Economic Aid To Individual Countries Should Be Limited To Technical Assistance and Disaster Relief; and That United States Foreign Aid Should Be Substantially Increased."

Under the capable direction of Brother William and Brother Conrad, the Junior Debate Team finished off the season with a sparkling record. With such a start they look forward to an even more successful season next year.

A black and white photograph showing a group of approximately ten men in suits seated around a large, dark conference table. They appear to be in a formal meeting or press conference. The room has high ceilings and large bookshelves filled with books in the background. On the right side of the frame, one man is standing and facing the group, possibly addressing them. The lighting is somewhat dim, and the image has a grainy, historical quality.

$\text{Let } f: \mathbb{R}^n \rightarrow \mathbb{R}^m$  be a function. Then, the Jacobian matrix of  $f$  at a point  $x \in \mathbb{R}^n$  is defined as the matrix of partial derivatives of the components of  $f$  with respect to the components of  $x$ . If  $f = (f_1, \dots, f_m)$ , then the Jacobian matrix  $J_f(x)$  is given by:

$$J_f(x) = \begin{pmatrix} \frac{\partial f_1}{\partial x_1} & \dots & \frac{\partial f_1}{\partial x_n} \\ \vdots & \ddots & \vdots \\ \frac{\partial f_m}{\partial x_1} & \dots & \frac{\partial f_m}{\partial x_n} \end{pmatrix}$$ where  $\frac{\partial f_i}{\partial x_j}$  denotes the partial derivative of  $f_i$  with respect to  $x_j$ .

the modern

My dear Knights of St. Mel:

In a few days you will be leaving your school but it will not be leaving you. I want to welcome you to this world of Mine. Much has been expected of you in the past four years. Now I expect much more. Do you know Me? Yes, you do. You've learned to know Me through this school dedicated to Me and you. I am with you during retreats, by you as you wade through a maze of questions and problems and within you during your monthly Confessions and Communion. I have chaperoned your proms and parties, watched you perspiring through your exams, and guided you through your work, play, and prayer.

You are the modern leaders. You are knighted to bring this world, that I love so much, back to Me. Yes, it is in a state of crisis. It was always thus. Your challenge is a little different. Just remember that I am with you all days—that, I have promised you. Since I am the secret of the atom, I am its solution. As I've been by you during the crucial years of your life, I am with My world during the crucial years of its life.

My Mystical Body needs leaders—leaders that are followers—followers of Me. Keep your Christian optimism. Wear it on your expression. Spread it by enthusiasm for My Church. Fan it into this puzzled, cynical world.

My Mother and yours needs modern champions—champions of Our Lady. Love her as I do and as I ask you to do.

I am your KING. Direct your MOVES as KNIGHTS on this CHESSBOARD of life toward Me, your GOAL and capture Me, Your KING.

You will have many class reunions in the years to come. You will proudly wear the label, St. Mel Alumni. There is, however, a final class reunion to which I am inviting you. It is a reunion in union with Me forever in paradise. Let no one of you be missing!

Eternally yours,
In Me, through Me
And with Me.

E. coli O157:H7 was isolated from ground beef samples collected from retail outlets in the United States between July 1996 and January 1997. The isolates were characterized by serotyping, phage typing, and plasmid profiling. The results showed that the majority of the isolates were of serotype O157:H7 and were susceptible to all antibiotics tested. The phage typing results indicated that the isolates belonged to one of two distinct phage types, PT1 and PT2. The plasmid profiles of the isolates were also determined, and it was found that most of the isolates possessed a plasmid of approximately 2.0 kb.

introducing

the modern

Does it come from practice or from strength and virtue within? Some say it takes a bigger champion to lose than to win. The Knights of St. Mel in their MODERN TEAMS are tasting the challenge of winning. Naturally we are quite proud of our teams, win or lose. However, winning more of our share of duels is becoming a habit. Just a look at the score boards in the past year clearly indicates the spirit of the MODERN TEAM linked together for victory.

The team is as strong as its weakest link. A missed block or a wild pass proves this fact all too clearly. The chain of the team can do what no individual can do alone. One link strengthens and aids the other toward the common goal.

An interesting gesture that truly symbolizes what makes our team tick is the huddle of prayer before its struggle. This team is not ashamed of its relation to the Found-Link, Christ, to the Highest and the Eternal. It's not too concerned about the "missing link" to the past and to the lowest. "Our Lady of Victory, pray for us."

Our MODERN TEAMS have taken the St. Mel Victory Song literally—"St. Mel Knights are marching to victory today."

st. mel varsity, our pride and joy

BEGINNING OF AN ERA

The two man team of coaches Keane and Salato during their stay at St. Mel have worked hard and hard at two goals. One, the developing of the character, sinew, and morals of their players as they fathered men from boys; and the other (dream of many years) to win the Catholic League Football Championship. As Rome wasn't built in a day, but it was built. St. Mel has been in the past few years going one step at a time in one direction—up. To sum it up, we had, this year, the horses to achieve goals that eluded us for many years. The Knights shut out St. Ignace (first time in history), tied Fenwick (after a long drought), and their most important achievement, reached the Catholic League Playoffs for the first time since 1935. It was quite a season.

On a feverish afternoon at Garfield Park, the Varsity gave a hint of what was to come. They pushed a three yard drive down the field in a spring scrimmage. Further evidence that St. Mel was a different power to be reckoned with was shown in their first exhibition game. They left the Loyola Ramblers on the gridiron in a 25-0 shambles. A true test of a champion begins in the Catholic League—the Big Ten of Catholic football. Our season briefly went as follows: After slugging it out toe-to-toe with the Weber Red Hounds, the Knights bowed in a heart-breaker, 7-6. Uncrushed and determined the Knights rebounded by rumbling over St. Patrick 22-0. Only on a rare day, beset by the Asian Flu, we ran into a classy Mount Carmel eleven to be clawed, 33-12. Still the streak was not smothered as they ground out a 7-0 thriller over St. Philip in a vicious game. The victory thirsty Knights proceeded to sweep St. Ignace 12-0. The season was concluded with a double lock with Fenwick. As a result of this season, St. Mel qualified for a playoff berth and took undisputed possession of second place in the Central Section. In the playoffs, the Knights fought hard and went down battling at the hands of their nemesis, Mt. Carmel 39-19. This was the season—here is the team that made it; indeed a MODERN TEAM.

On his first visit to company at St. Michaels, Wadena, and Mr. Rich McArthur and his assistant Mr. R. H. Rupp did an excellent job. In a few short weeks they put together a handsome team that achieved a victory over St. Patrick's on a 10-0 score with St. Anthony and a 10-0 score to the back.

Total Most Valuable Player by his "contract" was not a factor in the 1995-1996 season, but it was in 1996-1997 and 1997-1998.

Playoffs

lights overcome growing pains

The Light Weight team batted .300 in wins and losses this year; they batted 1.000 in the intangibles of spirit and determination.

A peculiar feature of the peach fuzz kids (not a senior on the team) was their ability to rise to the occasion. In the Fenwick Tournament, the so-called mediocre lights knocked over highly-touted St. Pat's and made Weber sweat it out thru an overtime to squeeze out a win. When the spotlight of pressure was brightest, they responded quickest.

The team had their Valley Forges but never a Waterloo. A losing streak never broke their spirit. Handicapped mostly by lack of experience, the lights under the patient finger of Coach Luksta, overcame much of their difficulty and had their moments of glory. Two of them were beating the playoff teams—Weber and St. Ignatius.

Some of the more promising players are Martin Farmer—first team Central Section—a scrappy, classy ball handler, play-maker and sparkplug along with his on-court, off-court partner, Jim Martin—All Catholic, first team Central Section—league's number two scorer—and a shooter with uncanny accuracy.

Other members of the team that give hint of starry performances after purge of experience are: A. Crowley—an umbrella on defense, A. Zito, a rough rebounder and gangling J. Stepps, T. Horan, G. Vlach, and M. Deppen. If boys can stoop under height next year, we may be tempted here to use the battle cry of former Brooklyn fans—"Wait till next year."

st. mel 3-h club, holland's hustling harriers to beat the clock

Cross country is an activity which few students know much about. It is a distance run, covering two miles for the Senior squad, and a mile and a quarter for the Junior team. It requires stamina, courage, and hard work.

The St. Mel team was captained by Don Gimbel. The coach is E. J. Holland, and its moderator is Brother Leonard. As far as the results of the seasonal records show, St. Mel had an unsuccessful season; however, the Junior team had success against St. Pats, whipping the Shamrocks in a practice meet at Rus Park 22 to 44. Daly came in second for St. Mel, Rondenalla third.

track team on the go

The sport called Track does not only concern running, but also involves a division called Field. The Field Events such as the broad jump, shot put, pole vault, high jump, and hurdles — both high and low — comprise the better portion of a Track meet. Coach Holland has been heard to say that without personnel that is successful in Field events, a Track team is not likely to do very well.

St. Mel was able to boast a truly outstanding Field event man in the 1960 season. He is Senior Captain Clark Odom, who was not only one of the city's best at his specialty, High Jump, but also an excellent 100 yard dash man.

"for the glory of the home room"

Nearly every day before school and for many hours after, the gym floors are alive with the spark and spring of spirited athletes practicing for the lunch period intramurals. The lively enthusiasm toward these contests can be seen by the excited cheering of the spectators during games. These intramural games, under the direction of Brother Arnold and Mr. Albano, have become an important part of the school curriculum. Besides giving the students a chance to let off steam between classes these tournaments develop a spirit of fair play and good sportsmanship. Homeroom teams compete for honors in various games during the lunch period intramurals.

In the West Building both volleyball and basketball trophies were captured by the flashy young knights of Freshman 41.

In the East Building, the volleyball championship was swept away by Senior 405. Junior 304 grasped the top honors in the basketball tournament in a hair-raiser 18-17.

tenpin topplers — a t.v. preview

Every Wednesday at Camden Bowling Center scores of Kent's and Cumberland bowlers turn out to watch the action. It's just one of the many things that make the center a favorite spot for bowling. This year is the activity's most successful yet.

It's interesting to note that the Senior League is the largest, but the Junior League is the most active and season after season strong to finish first.

Outstanding bowler last year was "whop" (62) bowled by Dan Kuznetsov during the last series of the season.

The 20th of the season is the Bowling Tournament at Camden Bowling May 2, when the Kent's have the home advantage at 10:00. Bowlers from Portland, Scarborough, and Cumberland are also expected.

requiescant in pace

Be mindful, O Lord, of Thy servants, Brother Eugene and John Bell, who have gone before us with the sign of faith, and rest in sleep of peace—these, O Lord, and to all who sleep in Christ, we beseech Thee to grant, of Thy goodness, a place of comfort, light, and peace. Through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.
